

The Department of Romance Languages and Literatures at University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Indiana is seeking to appoint a full-time, visiting assistant teaching professor in Italian language and culture in a dynamic undergraduate program committed to innovation and teaching excellence. This is a one-year appointment, to begin in August 2024, with the possibility of renewal for a second year. The number of teaching hours will depend on enrollments, but normal teaching load will be 3/3 (9/9 credit hours).

Qualifications

ACTFL OPI Advanced High or Superior or equivalent in Italian and English essential, as is extensive experience teaching Italian courses at the university level. PhD or ABD in Italian linguistics, language pedagogy, or related field required.

Notre Dame offers competitive salary and benefits, research support, and excellent opportunities for professional development; the Department of Romance Languages and Literatures has been at the forefront in the design and implementation of pioneering strategies in support of foreign language education at Notre Dame. Therefore, the ideal candidate should demonstrate excellence in teaching through the use of innovative methodologies and new technologies in the language classroom, as well as interest or experience in teaching advanced language and content courses across the curriculum. Experience in program coordination is preferred.

Application Instructions

For consideration, please send through Interfolio - <http://apply.interfolio.com/143875> - a letter of application; full curriculum vitae; teaching evaluations; statement of teaching philosophy; list of three recommenders who would be able to address teaching experience by April 19, 2024. The search committee will begin reviewing applications beginning April 19, 2024, however applications will be accepted until May 3, 2024.