

The Department of French and Italian at Colby College is seeking an Assistant Professor in Italian for a continuing full-time position to begin in fall 2025. PhD in hand by the time of appointment. The successful candidate will be part of an energetic department committed to providing the best education possible to a diverse and talented undergraduate student body. The specialization is open. We are particularly interested in individuals with considerable experience in language instruction and teaching/research expertise in Italian culture across the centuries, with a focus on one or more of the following areas: language pedagogy, film studies, ecocriticism, women, gender and sexuality studies. This is a non-tenured and non-tenurable full-time position. The teaching load is five courses, at the beginning, intermediate, and advanced levels.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a statement of teaching philosophy and research interests that demonstrates a commitment to equitable and inclusive teaching, a curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation, and evidence of teaching effectiveness (two complete sets of course evaluations for two different classes) via Interfolio at the following link, <http://apply.interfolio.com/155966>. Review of applications will begin immediately, and will continue until the position is filled. Address all inquiries to Gianluca Rizzo, Chair of Italian Search Committee (grizzo@colby.edu).
