

The Department of Modern Languages and Literatures at William & Mary, a public university of the Commonwealth of Virginia, invites applications for a 3-year, non-tenure track full-time teaching faculty instructional position that will begin August 10, 2025. This full-time teaching faculty appointment carries a service component commensurate with rank and comes with the possibility of ongoing renewals and a framework for promotion.

We seek an individual with expertise in Italian language pedagogy who has previous successful university teaching experience of the Italian language at all levels through innovative pedagogical methods such as the use of music, art, and other forms of media. This individual will possess the ability to develop and teach innovative courses at the college level as well as experience or demonstrated interest in coordinating an Italian language program; working closely with our International Fellow to supervise the pedagogical and cultural activities of the Italian House; and supervising Italian House activities including undergraduate teaching assistants. The successful applicant will be expected to be an effective teacher and will have a [3-3] teaching load.

Required Qualifications:

A Master's degree in Italian language pedagogy, Italian studies, or second language acquisition. Native or near-native fluency in Italian and English.

Preferred Qualifications:

Evidence of previous experience.

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu>. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter, and a statement of teaching interests that describes your approach to teaching and mentoring and that may incorporate a discussion of how your past scholarly work informs your approach. Candidates are encouraged to reflect on their past experiences or future plans to foster an inclusive and welcoming climate for learners/scholars in Italian language in any of the aforementioned required documents. You cannot submit a separate diversity statement. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions for how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the initial review date, November 1, 2024. Applications received after the initial review date will be considered if needed.
